October 4 — The Role of Religion: Comfort the Afflicted or Afflict the Comfortable? — Rev. Anne Felton Hines — What is the role of religion — of communities of faith such as CVUUF, and religious leaders themselves: "To comfort the afflicted, or afflict the comfortable?" Rev. Hines will share her reflections on this tension.

October 11 — How Far You Have Come! — Rev. Anne Felton

Hines — Today there will be only one worship service, so that afterwards we can celebrate the success of our Stewardship campaign. So it seems fitting that during our worship service, we celebrate the history of this Fellowship, and the journey that has brought you to this moment. Please join us.

NOTE: There will be only one service today followed immediately by Celebration Sunday (see page 4.)

October 18 — The Eternal Quest — Rev. Anne Felton Hines —

Is there some question that's been burning in your heart — about life, faith, Unitarian Universalism, the ministerial search process -- whatever? This is your chance to pose your question to Reverend Hines, and she will do her best to answer it — in 30 seconds or less. (Actually, usually a bit more!)

This is a service that Reverend Hines has enjoyed sharing with her congregations throughout her ministry; not only is it always a challenge, but it helps her know what's on your minds and in your hearts, and guides her ministry during the year.

October 25 — What Affects One of Us, Affects us All? —

Escalating economic inequality is now widely recognized as a major problem in this country and it's the 2014 -18 UUA General Assembly Congregational Study Action Issue. A group of CVUUF members and others has been meeting for the last year to learn more about it and what we can do to alleviate the problems it causes. This morning Michael Teasdale, David Buss, Howard Bierman and Frances Pardee will share their stories and perspectives on the topic. If we really believe that, as we say every Sunday morning, what affects one of us, affects us all, we need to become more aware of the problem and find ways to get involved in combating its injustices.

CVUUF Sundays on CD: Recordings of most Sunday services are available on audio CD. They may be purchased for a $3 donation, made at time of order. All proceeds go to the Library Fund. Order yours at the Library bookcase in Social Hall and do remember to pick up the CDs you've ordered! Sunday recordings can also be heard at www.cvuuf.org/worship/audiosermons. Some can even be downloaded to your iPod.

In the Meantime...

Reverend Anne Felton Hines
minister@cvuuf.org

At our Ingathering services on September 13th, I included a Covenant with the Interim Minister, written by my colleague Rev. Barbara Childs. Here is what those present that Sunday promised:

Willie Lubka, Board President: Will you all please rise in body or spirit and enter into this covenant together with Rev. Anne Hines, our Interim Minister.

Congregation: We welcome you as our partner in ministry this interim year, at the threshold of our brief journey together. We will use our hands and hearts, our vision and voices, to help and not to harm this beloved community through this time of transition.

Reverend Anne: I too will use my hands and heart, my vision and voice, to help and not to harm your beloved community through this time of transition.

Congregation: We will share our portions of truth with you, and will listen deeply to what you say, that we may grow in understanding.

Reverend Anne: I, too, will share my portions of truth with you, and will listen deeply to what you say, that I may grow in understanding.

Congregation: We will dare to disagree agreeably with you, to dream what we may become, and to venture down some untried paths as we make ready for new Called Ministry to this Fellowship.

Reverend Anne: I will dare to speak hard truths to you as best I can discern them, to hold up a mirror so you can see your past and present clearly, and to make some empty space here for the new to enter in.

Willie: In this brief and precious time –

All: May we be a blessing to each other, and may we be a blessing to the world.

In my sermon that morning, I talked about our “journey” together this coming year – some of the “stops” we’ll make along the way as you prepare to choose and then welcome a new Settled minister to join you on this journey next Fall.

And I talked about why Interim ministers are always considered transitory, never becoming the Settled minister – even though it would save Ministerial Search Committees a lot of work! But it has to do with one of those promises I made to you in the above Covenant: that I need to be able to “speak hard truths to you as best I can discern them” – which I might not be as willing to do if I were a candidate for the permanent position.

Many Interim ministers display an object as a symbol of that transitory nature of their ministry – a suitcase, a walking stick, etc. Mine is a scooter, which I will place somewhere at the front of the Sanctuary every Sunday I’m in the pulpit. That way, both you and I will remember that our time together is brief, but rich with discovery and movement forward.

So as we covenanted with each other Sept. 13th, “May we be a blessing to each other,” and in so doing, you and your next minister will surely “be a blessing to the world.”

Blessings to you all.

Anne

Look for announcements in “News & Notes” regarding Rev. Anne’s weekly schedule; or e-mail (minister@cvuuf.org). You can also leave a message on the Fellowship answering machine.

Special Note: Reverend Hines will be out of town, officiating at a wedding in Northern California, from Thursday Oct. 22nd to Sunday Oct. 25th. She will be responding to e-mail (minister@cvuuf.org)

President's Message

president@cvuuf.org

During a recent Cottage Conversation I attended, a topic that is perennial in UU circles arose – what is your “elevator speech” about Unitarian Universalism? An elevator speech means a brief statement that delivers a cogent summary of something important during the time frame of an elevator ride (typically less than a minute.) Our faith and the values and principles that unite us do not lend easily to being boiled down to a sound bite. An influential mentor often taught the simple truth that “things that matter take time.”

However, many of us encounter the circumstance now and then when an elevator speech opportunity presents itself. We fervently want to do it well, to potentially open a door for another person who may benefit as much as we have from the transforming experience we’ve found in our UU community.

I’ve heard many UUs confess great discomfort about giving an elevator speech, afraid of being misunderstood, inarticulate, of “saying it wrong,” or of coming across as proselytizing. There is some truth in the old joke, “What do you get when you cross a UU with a Jehovah's Witness?—Someone who knocks on your door and has nothing to say.”

To make this even more challenging, it is so personal. I’ve heard lots of wonderful UU elevator speeches, that I thought were fantastic, but which would not be comfortable voicing as my own. In 2003, then UUA President William Sinkford encouraged us to think about our elevator speech in a UU World article, and wrote this: “The Unitarian side tells us that there is only one God, one spirit of life, one power of love. The Universalist side tells us that God is a loving God, condemning none of us, valuing the spark of divinity that is in every human being. So my version of what Unitarian Universalism stands for is: One God, no one left behind.” Those are representative words from Rev. Sinkford – beautiful and compelling. But that is not a statement I personally would be likely to repeat.

During my years as a UU I’ve learned that thinking about my own elevator speech, and even practicing it with others, helps me feel more comfortable and prepared to talk about Unitarian Universalism when an opportunity happens.

I like talking about my experience, saying things like “My church gives me great joy. It’s one of the best things in my life. My family and I love it. It’s a community that helps me grow, where we can think for ourselves, and where we work together to serve and make the world better. The people are amazing, caring, thoughtful, active, and fun. I think you’d enjoy it. I’d love to invite you to join me on a Sunday morning to see what it’s all about.”

We each have our own personal “good news” about our faith. I encourage you to do a little searching online for phrases like UU elevator speech and UU good news. It’s fun, and there’s a ton of good information. I would love to see us hold workshops like the “CommUUnicating Our Faith” Rev. Tom Owen-Towle used to provide at First UU Church of San Diego.

Speaking of Cottage Conversations, I hope you have attended one already or are planning to do so. Everyone’s voice provides important input for the minister search process.

Also, if you haven’t talked with your canvasser yet about renewing your pledge, please do so in the next week, and please plan to be at church on Oct 11 for Celebration Sunday as we complete the stewardship campaign and look ahead to thriving forward together. The conversations that happen during pledge meetings that deepen our relationships and shared sense of belonging and commitment are as important as the pledges that sustain our congregation. Please welcome your canvasser and take a little time to connect.

It is an honor to serve as Board President with such a compassionate and energized community. As Julia Ward Howe wisely observed, “Ambitious people climb, but faithful people build.”

See you on Sunday,

Willie

CELEBRATION SUNDAY!

October 11, 2015

Sunday, October 11 is the date for a grand party to celebrate all those who have given of themselves to create and sustain this congregation.

There will be just one worship service at 9:15, followed by a special event to rejoice and give thanks.

Join us to lift up all that we receive from this congregation and all that we give, to recognize the ending our stewardship campaign and results we've achieved, to appreciate volunteers, and to look ahead to thriving forward in the future. Join us to celebrate the gifts we give to each other, and our shared commitment to living in right relation with each other and the wider world, as we continue to build and grow our beloved community. There will be food, music and fun. Child care will be available. Join us for Celebration Sunday!

CVUUF.org News

Our Communication Director, Jake Holland, is leading a project to update our web site. The new site will be: much easier to post with news, activities, and events of our busy congregation; optimized for smart phones; and more accessible to Google and other search engines (it'll be easier to search for us!).

This month expect to see a new home page and a "Members' Area" button which will link to the current site and offer the password-protected content that currently resides there. The final step will consolidate the old with the new. Stay Tuned!

Thanks to Jake and all those helping to make this vital project happen!

What's your name?

Please wear your name tag weekly.

Let a Sunday Greeter know if you need or would like a new one.

Your name tag gives you a chance to meet someone on a personal level; gives a visitor the ability to identify you as a member or friend that could answer their questions; and gives us all a chance to make new friends and to find community in our congregation.

Ministerial Search Committee

The MSC is sorry to lose Penny Smith on the committee. She was contributing a lot to our effort and we thank her for that. Due to other commitments in her life, she needed to step down. We will miss her contributions but feel confident that we can proceed as a committee of 6 rather than bringing on a new person at this stage in the process.

Preconceived Notions.

We all have them. We UUs like to think we are open-minded, but it's difficult for anyone to look outside of themselves and recognize their own biases. For 20 years now, the UUA has had a training program for UU congregations in search of new ministers, the goal of which is to ensure the highest level of inclusiveness in the ministerial search process. This program is called Beyond Categorical Thinking and it will take place at CVUUF on Sunday, November 1st. Trainers Eddy Carroll and Everardo Aquilar will present the sermon at 9:15, and then they will host a workshop from 11:00 to 2:30. All members and friends are encouraged to attend. Lunch will be provided (suggested donate $10, RSVP required) and childcare available (reservations required).

Cottage Conversations.

There are still opportunities to sign up (on Sundays or to msc@cvuuf.org). If you haven't signed up for one, please consider doing so. These are important events for three reasons: 1. They help the MSC better understand who we are and what we want as a congregation; 2. Ministers in search expect us to represent the congregation to them; and 3. They are a community building exercise among us.

The Survey.

The survey will be open until October 15th. Please take the time to respond. It will help us and may inspire you to deeper thoughts about what you are expecting of a new minister and of CVUUF as we move forward. A link to the survey may be found on the members only page of cvuuf.org. If you have any trouble accessing the survey please let us know... msc@cvuuf.org

Other Fronts.

Your committee is continuing to put together the Congregational Record and the Congregational Packet. The record is made available to ministers in search. It will contain basic information (location, size, finances, some demographic data, some history) about CVUUF to help them decide whether they might be interested in us. Once a minister expresses interest in us and we in them we will then exchange packets with them. The Congregational Packet will be a richer document containing more information on us: who we are, what we do, how we build community, where we live, what we are seeking in a minister and more. These documents are greatly served by the survey and the Cottage Conversations.

OWL ORIENTATION

Our Whole Lives (OWL) is a comprehensive, factual, sexuality education program. From kindergartner to adult, age-appropriate workshops provide information in a safe, positive, and healthy environment.

We invite you to attend a free orientation to learn about our Spring classes. Bring your questions and your open mind.

Sunday, November 15, 2015, 3pm

OWL is a secular program created by the Unitarian Universalist Association and the United Church of Christ.

News From Our Outreach Director

Pamela Lopez
outreachdirector@cvuuf.org

We are proud to announce that we will be organizing a HUUmanist Group that will be meeting on a regular basis. Lori Jacobs will be facilitating this group – made up of both members of our congregation and members of the area humanist group. Please contact Lori at 4bairns@twc.com if you are interested in joining them.

Many UU members identify as humanist, Atheist or Agnostic, rejecting supernatural frameworks for creating meaning or morality. If you are interested in participating in this exploration, we invite you to join some of the upcoming meetings. We will be getting information out to you shortly on the upcoming schedule.

Plans are underway by the Reproductive Justice Team to host an event to introduce the greater community to our dynamic OWL program (Our Whole Lives). The event is Sunday, November 15. To learn how you can participate in this (and find out more about our new Reproductive Justice Team, join us at our next meeting. The next meeting will be Sunday, October 18 at 5:00. It is a potluck.

This month's Citizen's Climate Lobby will meet in the Board Room on Sunday, October 4 at 12:30. Our Climate Action Team (CAT) will be operating separately from that. Stayed tuned for more CAT news.

Muses V!! Come attend Saturday October 10. This is an open mic for poets, spoken word artists, musicians, storytellers, etc. Sign-ups begin at 2:30, performances start at 3:00. All are welcome, whether performer or audience.

Friday, October 23 Community Forum is presenting a reading of the play If the SHU Fits – Voices From Solitary Confinement. The play features a cast of eight: actors, activists and former prisoners reading the voices of people experiencing the torture of long-term confinement in the SHU (Secure Housing Unit).

This production is co-sponsored by:

*California Lutheran University Center for Equality and Justice
ACLU/SC Ventura County Chapter,
Citizens for Peaceful Resolutions (C-P-R),
Californians United for a Responsible Budget (CURB),
Critical Resistance LA, Bill of Rights Defense Center (BORDC)
Prison Hunger Strike Solidarity Coalition (PHSSC)
National Religious Campaign Against Torture (NRCAT)*

Feeding Hands will take place at Calvary Church on Tuesday, October 6th. Please contact Anne Ewell for more information.

The Escalating Inequality group will be presenting our service on Sunday, October 25th. Please attend the service to hear what this dynamic group has been up to, and how you can participate. Check News and Notes to find out the date of their next monthly meeting.

If you have any questions on any of our Outreach programs, please find me on Sunday or email me at outreachdirector@cvuuf.org.

CVUUF SCRIPT PROGRAM

Vons is no longer supporting their escript program. If you shop at Ralphs however, you can sign up or renew your participation.

Thank you to everyone who supports and has supported our efforts to raise funds this way. Your friends and neighbors who are sympathetic to our fellowship can also participate.

CA PRISONERS WIN HISTORIC GAINS WITH SETTLEMENT AGAINST SOLITARY CONFINEMENT

California prisoners locked in isolation achieved a groundbreaking legal victory in their ongoing struggle against the use of solitary confinement. A settlement was reached in the federal class action suit Ashker v. Brown, originally filed in 2012, effectively ending indefinite long-term solitary confinement, and greatly limiting the prison administration's ability to use the practice, widely seen as a form of torture. The lawsuit was brought on behalf of prisoners held in Pelican Bay State Prison's infamous Security Housing Units (SHU) for more than 10 years, where they spend 23 hours a day or more in their cells with little to no access to family visits, outdoor time, or any kind of programming.

Conejo Valley Unitarian Universalist Fellowship

COVENANT OF GOOD RELATIONS

In order to assist us in fulfilling our mission to nurture spiritually courageous people who transform the world through justice and compassion, we the members and friends of the Conejo Valley Unitarian Universalist Fellowship enter into this Covenant of Good Relations.

We, the members and friends of this congregation, value:

- Opening our hearts and minds to those who have traveled journeys unlike ours and whose strengths and challenges may be different from ours.
- A welcoming space for all to speak their truth respectfully.
- The importance of deep listening and respect for each other.
- Relationships with others of all ages, and the gifts that each generation brings to our community.
- The democratic process, through which we give voice to concerns and offer our time and energy to arrive at solutions.

In the wider community, we honor our responsibilities for upholding spiritual ideals, engaging in civil discourse with those of other religious traditions, and promoting our UU values.

In my interactions with others in this congregation, I will:

- Speak honestly and directly to the person(s) with whom I have a concern, using thoughtful, compassionate language.
- Forgive the errors and shortcomings of myself and others as we contribute to our shared ministry and express gratitude for the many gifts we bring.
- Assume good intentions in those with whom I disagree and examine my own part in the disagreement.
- Listen deeply to, and actively seek resolution with those concerned before engaging the Conflict Resolution Committee, Committee on Ministry, the Council or the Board of Trustees in conflict mediation.
- Expect divergent beliefs and opinions and persist in respectful dialogue—especially in times of uncertainty—remaining open to new understandings while doing my part to sustain this Covenant.
- Respect the minister and staff's professionalism, time and privacy.
- Assume responsibility for understanding the church structure and governance model.
- Assume responsibility for keeping informed of church business.

Through this Covenant of Good Relations, it is our intention to foster healthy and productive relations within our church community as we work together to achieve our mission.
